I, Scott Gallacher, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am the owner of TeamCrown lab, a Dental lab. I have 12 years of dental laboratory experience.
2. I have reviewed the attached W.O.W. Articulator Techniques submitted as prior art in the pending U.S. Patent Application.
3. I obtained a W.O.W. articulator and placed a strip of "scotch tape" on the bottom of the articulator, as stated.

4. I found that, when attempting to insert the dowel pins in the dowel pin holes, the tape applied across the bottom of the articulator was pushed away from the bottom of the articulator by the dowel pin, exposing the dowel pin holes adjacent to the dowel pin hole into which I was attempting to fully insert a dowel pin. In addition, I found that the tape acted to push the dowel pin back out of the dowel pin hole.

5. While it did not occur to me to do so, at the request of the present inventor I attempted to apply the tape to the upper surface of the articulator (rather than the bottom), but found that the surface irregularities on the upper surface prevented me from doing this with any degree of success.

6. I declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful, false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful, false statement may jeopardize the validity of any reexamination certificate issuing on the above-identified proceeding.

DATED this 26 day of May, 2006.
